

Wooden benches with padded seat area.

Structure: natural ash wood, plastic spacers.

Seat area upholstery: made by hand, with polyester knit rings in mélange colours fitted onto the structure.

Notes:

The natural ash heartwood is treated with a transparent finish that limits the absorption of liquids and greasy substances.

The rings used on the Naga benches are exclusive to Paola Lenti. The knitting is full-bodied and soft at the same time, so much so that it does not require padding.

The rings are fitted onto the ash wood structure according to a predefined colour sequence and combination.
